COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

We received a letter recently informing us the Environmental Improvement Commission would like to get our Sewage Disposal Program underway this year. There is still a certain amount of paperwork to be done prior to final approval. Cost estimates must be updated and applications made for the town's share of the costs.

Next week we have an appointment with the engineers who designed the plant. They will be working on their part of the project and will assist us with the necessary forms we have to provide. It would appear we have no special problems other than to be sure all the proper steps are taken. We also must obtain land for the plant and easements for new locations unless they follow existing right-of-ways.

Tuesday of this week Robert Davis and I attended a seminar in Portland to acquaint ourselves with new material being used in the construction of sewer lines. Wednesday, Mr. Davis and the local C. D. director, John Greenleaf, went to Augusta to an all-day meeting for instruction on how assistance may be obtained locally from State and Federal Civil Defense. —Elynn N. Dickey

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Correspondent —
A fine spring rain dropped from the trees and made pools beside the road. I needed the water and saw the way the rain cascaded across the surface of the pond. The waves whiffed first up pond then down, followed by a calm.

The next morning was clear and springlike. It seemed good to see the green world again.

I left home on one of the lake to take a walk, leaving down the road a clear path. I turned into a small hillside clearing where I knew the mayflowers grew. I found them. "Pink, small and pointed. Aromatic but low," describes them but doesn't do justice to the delicate beauty and grace of the perfume-laden summer. They lie under the dead brown leaves of last year, and especially among the pines and in light sandy soil. They were from many of us the gladdest recognition of the year; appearing as they do when we are eager for some tangible assurance that "the spring comes slowly up this way."

Now that I was on the hillside I couldn't turn back to the road so I went.

At my feet were the Wake Robins or Red Trilliums flaunting their bright petals as if to lure upon me the welcome news that the time of birds and flowers is at hand. Pretty, yes, but their odor is most unpleasant.

The Bellworts, too, was abundant with its small bell-like blossoms which droop modestly beneath the curving stems.

There are more conspicuous flowers than wild flowers but I look forward to them.

May, a month full of green grass, flowers. Can hum of bees and bird songs. All are happy with the news of another spring.

The wind rustled me in the hemlocks and pines, their musical instruments in tune. I sat and listened.

The valley sang in harmony with the sound of running water while the rocks sat by alive with mosses and ferns. How green they were!

Some hollows were still filled with snow and in the deep woods at the far top I could have used my snowshoes easily.

As I looked across the valley there was a glorious vista of peaks; some capped in white while skeletons of white trunks nodded in the breeze. The sunbeams black in shadow and emerald in the light stood out as they mingled with the red blossoms of the maples. Close up these blossoms are as pretty as lilacs if one stops to notice them. I picked a few to take home.

I heard a bird at the top of a tall tree. It flew but I couldn't see it clearly. I knew only that it was a hawk.

At the same time two squirrels scolded me for intruding.

High up, I followed a brook for some time just to hear its music. In these deep woods this brook could do many many things. It talked sometimes like human voices, expressing laughter, airy gladness and joyfulness. It could lift the heart and calm the spirit making one feel blessed even though it was just a tiny part of this wonderful world. Streams that babble, trickle, run, or surge that leap over ledges and swirl around boulders filling the air with a deep continuous roar; I love them all.

As I moved along the fallen tree trunk on which I sat in this opening by the creek, the hawk was warm from the sun.

When leaving, my footfalls were silent on the moist gleaming forest floor.

Wearing the face of the hill on my return, the woodcock, robin-sized chunk of dark feathers, startled me in a thicket of alders by jumping straight up at my feet, its wings quivering, then disappearing straight ahead the instant it reached the top of the alders. Only the second one I have ever seen when looking.

Then just beyond there appeared my first spring toad; caked in mud he seemed rather arthritic as he tried to move away. Maybe it was his first trip out too.

Home was just ahead now and above the pond dipping, banking, flaunting its graceful power in the face of the north wind was an osprey, the first I had seen in a long time. What a tremendous wing spread he had! I watched for some time bringing him nearer with my binoculars.

How nice it seemed to again see the pond in blue after so long it had been dressed in white.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holt and son, Danny, were at Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Holt's for the week end. Danny celebrated his first birthday.

Mrs. Edna Tamblor was greeted by a party of 14 at the home of Jean Millett for coffee and cake Friday forenoon in honor of Edna's birthday. She received many nice gifts and a beautiful cake made by Fay Holt.

Gordon Morgan was a patient at Farmington Hospital last week after an accident at the mill in Jay when he got a caustic solution in his eyes.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Holt visited his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Holt, at South Paris, Sunday afternoon.

Katherine Hakala, Jean Millett and son, and Mrs. Barbara Wilson and children, Locke Mills, were dinner guests Wednesday of Mrs. Brenda Mason at Bethel.

Mrs. Annie Mills and her grandsons, Darrell, Shapleigh, were at their cottage here for the week end.

TELSTAR R. H. S. NEWS

GUIDANCE NEWS

The following seniors have been accepted at college for the coming year: Victoria Durham, Mansfield Peabody Academy, Portland; Jennifer Gannon, Thomas College, Waterville; Philip Mills, U. of M. Augusta; Bruce Smith, CMPTI, Auburn.

STUDENT COUNCIL NOTES

The following students have shown interest in their classes to run for the student council for next year. These are the people which the students will vote for in the upcoming elections.

Grade 8—Betty Davis, Robin Dooan, Cathy Fiske, Brian Moore, Gary Morgan, Peter Poir, and Stephen Thomas. Grade 9—Roberta Anderson and Nancy Gifford. Grade 10—Roger Back, Mike Davis, Roberta Gifford, Sharon Dondkowski, James Gibson, Randy Laddfield, Sam Redman, Ann Rolfe, and Francis Westfield. Grade 11—Dave Holt, Edward Judd, Donald Linton, Mary Robertson, Mary Thayer, John Wheeler, Bonnie Whitten, and Cheryl Wright.

Those students who are voting are urged to think about these candidates in their respective classes. Take this seriously and we'll have a good student council for next year. There have been 42 seniors accepted at college this year and four others have applied.

This may not mean much to some of you, but I feel that this is quite a jump from the last few years. Because of this I feel that the program here at Telstar is working and given more time will prove to be very successful. This is something to think about — Paula Wright.

ACTIVITIES

Foreign language teachers held a meeting in Belmont recently. Following a "brain break" ceremony, the group enjoyed the address given by the Dean of Admissions of Bowdoin College. Lunch was served and there was a tour of the Academy. Telstar was represented by Madame Thomsen.

Also recently the American Association of Teachers of French held their important spring meeting at the University of Maine in Augusta.

THE KEY TO A GOOD LAWN IS PROPER FERTILIZING

That's why TURF BUILDER is America's favorite lawn fertilizer. Turf Builder is made by Scott's exclusive Trionized process which enables it to release its nutrients only as the grass needs them. There's no surge growth to cause extra mowing, and there's no wasteful over-feeding or nutrient loss from leaching. Just a thicker, greener, sturdier lawn. Spread Turf Builder on your lawn this weekend, and see for yourself.
